

Honors English 9 Children's Story

You and your partner will be creating a children's narrative complete with a unique story line and illustrations. Your story must focus on these literary devices: symbolism, irony, mood, tone and theme.

Children Story Reviews due on Thursday, October 9. Each member of the group will read three children stories and write a review on each story. I will go over the format in class.

Logline due on Monday, October 13. I will go over the logline format in class.

Back-stories due on Friday, Oct. 17th. You will choose two main characters and write about their lives previous to the start of your children's story. Your back-stories must be 1 ½ pages per character – double-spaced and typed.

The completed narrative will be read and presented to the class on Wed. Oct. 29-31.

This is a wonderful chance to be creative. I am impressed every year with the projects I receive.

Good luck!
